

FUTURE OF WIKISTIM

As resources become available, we plan to:

- Include additional sections, with VNS next in line. This will broaden the scope of WIKISTIM.
- Create forms for online data submission with easy checkboxes when applicable
- Link data fields to further information (e.g., definitions, preferred uses of outcome criteria, authors' CVs, etc.)
- Provide the ability to sort the list of papers by "date citation added" and "date data extraction completed," so that users can easily check "what's new"
- Create templates for searches on commonly accessed topics
- Incorporate cutting edge data visualization techniques that will update immediately as new data are extracted and uploaded
- Offer a dynamic user experience, including the ability to save searches and customize the way the site behaves.
- Provide automatic updates of results of saved searches or searches identified as important by WIKISTIM Section Editors (e.g., results of cervical SCS)
